Sage Junction at Center

A fast and rising band in northern Utah—Sage Junction—will be playing for our Dinner Dance on May 15. Described as playing the best country and classic rock, they grab the attention of people of all ages with their energetic sound and tunes.

Some of their regular venues include The Outlaw Saloon, FOE, and the American Legion, seasonally Mountain Vista Days, North Shore Beach Bash, and the Box Elder and Weber County Fairs. Their music includes classics from artists such as George Strait, Keith Urban, Alan Jackson, and Dierks Bentley. Their passion for having fun is evident and prominent in the music played.

Band members include Jeff Rawlings (guitar and vocals); Neal Jensen (acoustic guitar and vocals); Don Rollins (bass and vocals); Dean Leach (lead guitar); Andrew Glas-macher (drums); Marian Smith (steel guitar); and Bart Shane (sound engineer). They have been performing professionally for many years, and you'll find their level of entertainment to be of the highest quality. If you're looking for fun, variety, and an entertaining performance, then you'll love Sage Junction.

Sassy Lassies Head to Renaissance Faire

The Lassies are headed to Marriott-Slaterville for this year's Renaissance Faire May 15 at 10:30 a.m. The cost is $6 plus a nominal gas fee. You'll be able to find something to eat at the Faire. There's entertainment and places to sit. Wear good walking shoes. Costume is purely optional.

We will be practicing our kitchen band on May 21 at 1:00-ish our regular meeting. This project will take off in its own direction and fun is guaranteed. Bring your instrument.

June 5: American Fork Idol at the Desert Star Theater in Murray for the evening performance. Tickets have been purchased. Price TBA.
